

NOTE FOR THE PROPER USE OF THE MARE-LONGUE RESEARCH STATION

The station is comprised of:

- 2 dormitories with 6 beds each, with mattress, mattress protector and fitted sheet provided,
- a fully equipped kitchen with fridge, oven, microwave, pots, dishes ...,
- a bathroom with showers, toilet (with paper and household products) and sinks,
- a laboratory with tables, small fridge, a drying oven, an internet connection and a telephone that can only receive calls.

You must bring: sleeping bag, pillow, necessary toiletries, food.

Mosquitoes are a problem in the tropics, especially during the rainy season. The dormitories and lab facility have been equipped with Mosquito nets, please be gentle when opening and closing the nets. To help keep the mosquito population down and prevent the spread of disease please bring appropriate clothing and insect repellents.

Maintenance: You must leave the station clean at the end of your stay, i.e. it should be in the same condition in which you found it at the start. Mr. TURPIN, the guardian, only takes care of the exterior maintenance and the floors inside. You must take care of all other cleaning. Be careful not to leave food in the station as it is quickly invaded by ants.

Upon request, Mr. TURPIN can do your personal laundry and prepare food for the evening, please liaise with him.

In St Philippe, close to the station, you will find a bakery, petrol station, small supply store and a vendor of fruits and vegetables.

CHECK-LIST :

Please close (do not lock) the gate of the garden. We are on the grounds of the Office National des Forêts and it is an obligation that we have to leave this gate closed to prevent stray dogs from destroying their plantation.

Please do not make noise too late so as not to disturb the neighborhood.

Please arrange for keys if you are multiple occupants.

Please do not leave your glass bottles at the station. There are glass recycling terminals in St Philippe.

Thank you for throwing your trash in the appropriate trash/recycling can.

Please do not throw your butts in the garden and / or on the floor.

Please unplug only the small appliances when leaving the station.

Thank you for cleaning the stove before you leave.
